Incident Report

Property Name: Campus Crossing
Property Location: 1400 E.Cornwallis
Durham, NC 27707
Date Reported: September 17, 2018
Today's Date: September 18, 2018
Time of Incident: 10:15pm

On 17 Sept 2018, at approximately 10:15pm, I Ofc Waller asked Capt Lavar Mitchell (Site Supervisor) to relieve me of duties at guard house so i could take my meds and utilize the restroom, in which he did. Ofc Mitchell was located inside his POV preparing to get out. I, Ofc Waller proceeded towards the campus office located approximately 50ft from the guard house.

That's when I heard a car door slam, shortly afterwards I heard Capt L. Mitchell giving me verbal questional commands of (Man! What are you doing?Man! What are you doing?) I immediately looked for a visual. From the sound of his voice I knew he was in trouble I never heard him use that tone of voice before ,my view was partially blocked by moving vehicles so I ran back towards the guard house.

While running I could clearly see that Capt Mitchell was in a physical altercation with someone and in the fight of his life (I could see the both of them struggling over Capt Mitchell's service weapon) while he was still asking the person "What are you doing? Man. The man (a black male, approx 18-24yrs old, dressed in white tank top , with white long leg gym pants) had his hand on the barrel of Capt Mitchell's weapon still trying to take it from him that's when capt mitchell fired (1) shot at the victim. I was a least about 5ft from them when the shot was fired. The victim fell down towards the rear of the guard house. I sat the victim upward while notifying authorities. The victim never responded (physically nor verbally) to Capt Mitchell command's. Afterwards the victim never responded either.

10:15pm I was sitting inside my car, beside the security booth. When I notice a black male pulling on a Silver car doors. I got out of my car. I ask the black male what was going on. He didn't respond to me at this point the Silver car drove away. The black male ran to my car and got in on the passenger side door. I yell multiple times at him to get out my car and I also said to him what are doing. He struck me on the right side of my forehead, we then began to fight inside of my car. I got out my car from the driver's side door. I was still yelling at the black male to get out of my car. He then climbed over from the passenger seat to the driver seat. He tried to start my car. He thought my key was in the ignition, but I have a push button starter. He then got out of the car came towards me and put both of his hands on my shoulders. I kept yelling at him saying what are you doing. He came at me again this time putting his hands by his waist band. I took my weapon out and shout him because I feared for my life. After the Durham Police Department released my car back to me I noticed that the driver door was bent due to the fighting with the black male.

Good morning Ray. We spoke to you last week regarding one of our officers, Lavar Mitchell. Lavar was involved in a shooting at Campus Crossings in Durham. Lavar is returning to work tonight. The Durham Police Department has not charged him and is calling the incident self defense. We have also investigated the event and we also found he acted in self defense.

His firearm is still with the Durham PD pending a finding by the District Attorneys Office. He has since purchased a new firearm. It is the same make and model as the one he qualified with.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under the FCRA. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses a credit report or another type of consumer report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment - or to take another adverse action against you - must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.
- You have the right to know what is in your file. You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your "file disclosure"). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if:
 - a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit report;
 - you are the victim of identity theft and place a fraud alert in your file;
 - your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud;
 - you are on public assistance;
 - you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days.

In addition, all consumers will be entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for additional information.

- You have the right to ask for a credit score. Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and report it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for an explanation of dispute procedures.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. Inaccurate, incomplete or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to report information it has verified as accurate.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information. In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.
- Access to your file is limited. A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need -- usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers. A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

MAR 23 2016

- You may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report. Unsolicited "prescreened" offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt-out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-5-OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688).
- You may seek damages from violators. If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

States may enforce the FCRA, and many states have their own consumer reporting laws. In some cases, you may have more rights under state law. For more information, contact your state or local consumer protection agency or your state Attorney General. For information about your federal rights, contact:

Re: Levar Mitchell weapons discharge

This investigation revealed that on Tuesday, September 18, 2018 at approximately 11:00 am Roger Ladd and Gerald Elliott, Jr., both of NC Detective Agency, came to Private Protective Services at 3101 Industrial Drive. Ladd advised that one of his Armed Security guards, Levar Mitchell, had discharged his weapon while on duty on Monday, September 17, 2018. Levar Mitchell and Roosevelt Waller were on duty at Campus Crossing Apartments on Cornwallis Road in Durham, North Carolina. Mitchell had an altercation with a subject and discharged his weapon once. As a result, the subject, DeAndre Ballard, was killed. Durham Police Department was contacted to investigate the incident. Detective E. Ortiz was the assigned Investigator. Ladd turned over to Investigator Bullard a typed statement from Levar Mitchell. Ladd advised that he would forward a statement from Roosevelt Waller once he returned to his office. At approximately 1:16 p.m. Investigator Bullard received an Email from Roger Ladd that contained the statement of Roosevelt Waller. The statements of Mitchell and Waller are included in this file.

A summary of the events are as follows. On, or about, 10:15 p.m. Mitchell was seated inside of his personal vehicle positioned near the guard house of Campus Crossing Apartments. Mitchell saw Ballard pulling on the door handles of a Silver car. Mitchell inquired to Ballard about what he was doing. The Silver car sped away. Ballard ran to Mitchell's car and got into the passenger seat. Mitchell ordered Ballard to get out his car. Ballard refused to exit Mitchell's car and struck Mitchell in the head. A short struggle ensued between Mitchell and Ballard. Mitchell then exited the driver's door of his vehicle. Ballard then crawled over into the driver's seat of Mitchell's vehicle. Ballard attempted to start Mitchell's car but was unable to. Mitchell's car has a push button start and Mitchell had the key fob in his pocket. Mitchell continued to order Ballard out of his vehicle. Ballard exited Mitchell's vehicle and a physical altercation began. During the altercation Mitchell felt Ballard grab his duty belt near his weapon. Mitchell then drew his service weapon out of the holster. The physical altercation continued with Ballard grabbing Mitchell's weapon. During the struggle for the weapon Mitchell discharged one round hitting Ballard. Ballard then released Mitchell's weapon and fell to the ground. Waller attended to Ballard and contacted the Durham Police.

On September 18, 2018 Investigator Bullard checked the Registration status of both Levar Mitchell and Roosevelt Waller in both PPS2000 and PPSM. Levar Mitchell is a properly registered Armed Guard and expires March 31, 2019. Roosevelt Waller is a properly registered Unarmed Guard. Waller's application for registration was received on July 24, 2018. A printout of both are included in this case file.

On October 2, 2018, Investigator Bullard went to the Durham Police Department to meet with Detective Ortiz. Detective Ortiz advised that Mitchell was dressed in a full uniform, similar to that of a Police Officer. Detective Ortiz also advised that there was a third party witness to the event. A pizza delivery person. Detective Ortiz advised that this third party's statement corroborated the statements given by Mitchell and Waller. The Durham Police Department seized a .45 Caliber Glock handgun, serial number BBXC121, from Mitchell on September 18, 2018. Investigator Bullard compared this information to the Training Certificate submitted with Mitchell's Armed Guard Registration and found it to be the same weapon that he qualified with. Detective Ortiz advised that he has met with the District Attorney's Office and that it appears at this time that no charges will be filed against Mitchell or Waller. Detective Ortiz was asked to keep Investigator Bullard up to date on the case.

Nothing Further.

District Attorney Deberry:

I am writing to inquire about the status of the DeAndre Ballard incident from 2018. Mike Wallace asked that I contact you when I spoke with him on May 17th. I have made several attempts to contact you by telephone, but have been unsuccessful.

Private Protective Services is the state agency that regulates security guards in North Carolina. As it relates to this incident, we are attempting to determine whether any violations of the Private Protective Services Act (NCGS 74C) occurred, or whether any conduct by the security guard may impact his registration granted by the Private Protective Services Board. Currently, our investigation remains open pending findings by your Office and the Durham Police Department.

Please share the status of this matter. In particular, our agency is interested in whether charges may be brought against the security guard.

Mr. Wallace,

Thank you for taking the time to speak with me today. To confirm, it is my understanding that the DA's Office has closed its inquiry regarding the DeAndre Ballard incident from 2018. Further, it is my understanding that no criminal charges are forthcoming.

As you're aware, Private Protective Services is the state agency that regulates security guards in North Carolina.
